TURNER WAS TICKLED.

E. P. Turner, general passenger agent of the T. & P., left for his home Saturday night after the Carnival.

When asked about how the Carnival impressed him, Mr. Turner said, "The Carnival is all right. The crowd while perhaps not so large as that which attended the teachers' convention in June, is probably a better one for El Paso. I do not intend any re-entention upon the crowd that attended the convention, but the cheap rate certainly brought a class of people who do not spend much money. Why, many of the June visitors brought their lunches along with them. The Carnival visitors are mostly moneyed people and have spent money in El Paso lavishly, hence from a financial standpoint the Carnival is much better for El Paso than the teachers' convention."

"I am tickled over the weather we have had for the Carnival. I have been more worried on that question than any other. You see I dwell especially in my advertising on 'Sunshine in January.' I advertised that feature above them all, and I cannot express my delight with having my predictions to come true."

"There is no doubt but what El Paso will have a Carnival or exposition of some kind every year and I will do my part towards making it a success."

SPARKS FROM THE ENGINE.

Brakeman Shea, of the G. H., reported for work this morning after a few days rest.

Conductor Ennis, of the G. H., who has been laying off a few days reported for work this morning.

Engineers U. G. Wolfe and W. Raden, of the G. H., reported for duty yesterday after being off to attend the Carnival.

George Langton, a machinist in the G. H. round house, returned Saturday from San Antonio where he had been to attend court.

General Attorney Harmon and General Superintendent Greig of the El Paso and Northeastern road, went to Alamogordo this morning.

J. McMillan, assistant general passenger agent of the G. H. & S. A. railroad, returned to San Antonio last night after seeing the Carnival.

Word comes from San Antonio that day watchman Long, of the G. H. shops who is in the hospital in that city, is much improved and will probably return to his post in a few days.

Col. Beaumont, of Victoria, Texas, five stock agent of the S. P., after attending the Carnival, left for Wilcox, Arizona, this morning to meet a shipment of cattle which is coming this way.

Mrs. B. Bippert, of Devine, Texas, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. Black, wife of a G. H. blacksmith. She came to attend the Carnival and will remain until February 1st.

J. McMillan, assistant general passenger and ticket agent of the G. H. & S. A., left last night for his home in San Antonio after attending the Carnival.

Harry Alexander, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the El Paso Northeastern railroad, left this morning for a week's trip to Chihuahua and other Mexico points.

Ed LeRoque, a G. H. car repairer who went down to Valentine several days ago to temporarily fill the position of car inspector at that place, returned to his post at this place yesterday.

Two extra cars had to be added to the west bound S. P. this morning after it was already made up on account of the large number of people from the west who were returning home after attending the Carnival.

Mrs. C. J. Grantham, of Dallas, is visiting her son Wallace who is employed in the blacksmith department of the G. H. shops in this city. She came to attend the Carnival and will leave for home in the morning.

Miss Alice Hollamon, of Taylor, Texas, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Bethea in this city. She came for the Carnival and will remain until about the first of February. Her brother-in-law, Mr. Bethea, is foreman of the blacksmith shop of the G. H. & S. A.

The work hours at the G. H. shops have been reduced from ten to nine a day. Commencing today work will commence at 7 instead of 6:45 a. m. and an hour will be taken off at noon instead of fifty minutes as for the past few months, while the work will be stopped at 5 instead of 5:35 as heretofore. The change is not welcomed by the boys, as they are anxious to get in as many hours each day as possible.

Express Messenger Lewis, who came in from the east on the G. H. this morning, says that an elephant was shipped from Houston to San Antonio on that train in the baggage car. When asked why the elephant was allowed to ride in the baggage car Mr. Lewis said that he had his trunk checked as baggage and when they went to put it in the car they had to let the elephant go in also, but just because he got off this little joke is no reason why the story of the elephant's ride in the baggage car is not true.

CARNIVAL HAS ENDED

went home instead. The people who awaited her arrival at the natatorium went away disappointed.

Until a late hour Saturday night the streets presented a scene of unprecedented activity. They were crowded with maskers and merry makers and joy was unconfined. The celebration so far as enjoyment went, was pronounced by all to be a phenomenal success.

A Charming Queen.

Miss Claire Kelly's part of the program as queen of the Carnival was carried out as perfectly as could have been done. She has made as gracious a queen as any one the citizens could have selected and the part she played at her own suggestion has been more important than the casual observer would imagine.

She has brought Mexico and the United States, and especially Texas and El Paso, closer together, the result of which is already being seen. Those who have watched her conduct and know how charmingly she has managed her part of the affair are loud in praise of her. A. S. Greig, who has attended and been interested in many such affairs, says that Miss Kelly was the most perfect queen he ever saw and has not made the slightest error since the beginning of the show.

The visiting officials and citizens from Mexico have done her every honor to show her how well they appreciated her treatment of the southern republic and have put themselves on record as her lifetime friends and hearty friends of El Paso. The appointment of the three young ladies in Juarez as maids of honor to the queen inaugurated a movement for closer relation between El Paso and Mexico and this was altogether the idea of Miss Kelly.

To show his appreciation of this move Governor Ahumada has visited her several times this week and has done her honors that no American or any other foreign official. He escorted her to the bull fight and entertained her on other occasions and Saturday invited her to open the grand government theater at Chihuahua, the largest theater on the western hemisphere. This incident is unprecedented. The theater is a government building and the pride of all northern Mexico and the honor of dedicating the structure would be sought and highly appreciated by the society of Mexico. To repay Miss Kelly for the kindness she has shown his people, Governor Ahumada has set a precedent.

Miss Kelly has also won the hearts of the citizens of El Paso and made friends among the visitors from all parts of the country. She will go to Chihuahua soon to dedicate the government theater and will there be the guest of the city and state for a week. She has made lasting friends in El Paso and while there are some who have perhaps been crowded with work and seemingly failed to show her the attention due her position, none deny that as queen of the Carnival she has been a perfect success.

CHANGES IN THE LOWDON NATIONAL BANK.

General L. M. Openheimer has resigned as president of the Lowdon National bank, of this city. His health, it is said, has not been of the best for several months and he will go to his ranch near Austin for a time to recuperate.

His resignation was accepted at the last directors' meeting and H. L. Newman, formerly president of the Newman bank, was elected to succeed him. A. P. Coles was elected first vice president to succeed Mr. Newman.

News Of the Courts

S. H. Newman Sues For the "First" Carnival Button.

S. H. Newman has filed suit against the Carnival association for $200 damages.

This is the first intimation received by the public that anything was brewing, but rumors of impending trouble have been afloat some time.

The suit involves the title to the first Carnival "We Will" button which Newman claims to have purchased from Dr. Stark for $1 with the view of raffling off same for the benefit of the Carnival fund. He alleges that the Carnival association refused to deliver the goods after accepting his dollar and moreover utilized the idea of raffling off the button, which he claims to have originated.

The suit was filed in Justice Ellis's court by Attorney M. W. Stanton and cites each individual member of the Carnival committee to answer on January 28. The plaintiff's allegation is that the button became property, having been acquired by purchase, but it was converted to the use of the association and sold for $200 to A. P. Coles. He asks that the amount of money paid for it be ordered paid over to him. The button incident is one with which the people of El Paso are familiar. When the "We Will" button idea was originated S. H. Newman went around and proposed to be the purchaser of the first button and put up a dollar with J. D. Ponder before the buttons were manufactured. He claims that he afterwards tendered or delivered the dollar to H. H. Stark and Treasurer Wingo, but never got possession of the "first" button, which was sold in the plaza at public outcry and purchased by A. P. Coles for $200.

Street Railway Suit.

The heavy damage suit against the Santa Fe street car line was taken for trial in Judge Goggin's court this morning.

The plaintiff is William McNew, the well known New Mexico cattle man whose home is in the county beyond Alamogordo. He sues for himself and little son because of injuries received by the boy who was run over by a street car nearly a year ago.

The accident occurred a short time after the Hillsboro trial when the lad was going home with his parents. They came in on the Santa Fe and took a carriage to cross the city to the White Oaks depot. Down on Santa Fe street the carriage swerved to one side to avoid a street car which was approaching. The boy was leaning against the door of the vehicle looking out and the sudden turn caused the door to fly open and he fell out on the street car track some distance in front of the approaching mule box. It is said that the driver had ample time to stop the car but did not do so and the iron wheels passed over the little boy's legs injuring one of them in a terrible manner.

Commissioners in Session.
The county commissioners were in session today at the office of the county judge.

All commissioners attended the morning session except Mr. Harris. W. H. Webb was appointed constable of precinct No. 1 and the report of the water commissioners was received and filed.

The salary of the district clerk paid by the county was raised from $75 to $100 per month and the salaries of other county officials were fixed as follows:

County judge, $1,300; sheriff, $300; county physician, $900; district clerk, $1,200; three jail guards at $1.50 each per day; extra deputy sheriff, $720; janitor, $360; assistant janitor, $540. These salaries are to be paid out of general fund scrip except the court house janitors. This scrip is greatly depreciated.

Crooks Liberated.

All of the crooks and suspicious characters arrested during the Carnival by the police were liberated this morning and told to leave town. They were a sorry looking lot and most of them were angry scowls on their faces. They upbraided the police for keeping them caged up during the celebration and not permitting them to ply their vocations.

There were six men suspected of being pickpockets and con men in the party and as many more vagrants. All were given strict orders to get out of town within twelve hours.

Old Offender Arrested.

Oscar Davis was arrested Saturday night by Jailer Bridges on the charge of assault to rob.

The alleged crime was committed several months ago in the Redlight when Gus Kutroff was ambushed and lost $32. Saturday night he pointed Davis out as the man who assaulted him and the officer took the suspect into custody. The complaint was sworn out before Justice Spencer, who fixed the prisoner's bond at $1,000.

Found the Watch.

Saturday a stranger complained to the police that he had lost his watch in the crowd on Utah street and the officers went on a still hunt for the missing watch.

Saturday night Daniel Ramirez was arrested for disturbing the peace in a saloon. When searched the missing watch was found in his pocket. He was then taken to the county jail on the charge of theft.

Took a Recess.

Judge Walthall's court is not in session today. A recess was taken this morning to allow District Attorney Dean to appear before Judge Goggin's court in behalf of a client of his.

ELISH GRAY, THE GREAT INVENTOR AND SCIENTIST IS DEAD AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 21.—Prof. Elisha Gray, the scientist and inventor, is dead.

Prof. Gray was born in Ohio in 1835. He learned the trades of blacksmithing, boat building, and carpentry. While studying the physical sciences at Oberlin college he supported himself by working at his trade.

In 1837 he invented a self adjusting telegraph relay, and later perfected the type writing telegraph, the stock ticker, the telegraphic switch, telegraph repeater, annunciator, and other valuable instruments.

He organized the Western Electric company, but soon retired. In 1876 he invented the speaking telephone, and later perfected a number of improvements.

His latest great invention, the telautograph, by which writing and drawings can be transmitted to any distance, was exhibited at the Chicago exposition.

NO "FAKIRS LIKE MCCOY" ARE WANTED BY THE SAN FRANCISCO ATHLETIC CLUB.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—It was a surprise to Gleason, local manager of the Twentieth Century club, when he was told flatly by the supervisors that they could grant no license for a fight in which so notorious a fakir as Kid McCoy figured.

He made a protest, and his lawyer tried to argue the point that McCoy could be bound by ironclad stipulations, but Supervisor Charles Westey, who never misses a prize fight and who is an authority on the subject, declared he and his associates were determined to protect the Frisco public from professional fakirs like McCoy, and that it was useless to talk about getting a license for McCoy.

THE NEW MEXICO TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE IN SESSION AT SANTA FE.

Candid Confession.

"Do you think the arguments in your speech are plausible?" asked the orator's confidential friend.

"That has nothing to do with the case," was the prompt reply. "I don't care whether they are plausible or not so long as they are applaudable."—Washington Star.
